S. E. OTIS,
District Committee.

Judge Cothren has finally published a card, declining to accept the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Third District. He says to the chairman of the Democratic Committee :]

DEAR SIR: My official duties as judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, render it out of the question for me at this time to accept the office of member of Congress. Deeply sensible of the honor conferred upon me by the Muscoda convention, and hoping that my refusal to accept the nomination will be kindly received, I have the honor to state that I must unconditionally decline to stand as a candidate. Yours respectfully, M. M. COTHREN.

There is another reason why the Judge did not wish to run. He knows that King, the Inflationist, can not be elected, notwithstanding it is understood that most the Democrats will vote for King in preference to Hazelton. It is reported in the Evening Wisconsin that the Democratic Committee say that "barring his financial delusion, King is a good enough Democrat," and "there is nothing to fear from the Greenback cause, which is already dying out." So, the Democrats in the Third District are waking up to the fact that Greenbackism is in the death struggle.

The Chicago Tribune of Wednesday makes this comparison between two notorious political characters: "The two T's—Tweed and Tilden—are likely to pass into history as a pair of the greatest political scamps who were ever thrown to the surface in this country. Tweed stands a faint chance to be estimated by posterity as the smaller rascal of the two. He was born and bred, and brought up a rogue, and can plead his early environment in bar against unjust aspersions upon his name. But not so with crafty Sam. He belongs to that infamous crowd of sinners who knew their duty but did it not. Tweed's wrong doing was inspired by ignorance, Tilden's by inherent cussedness, aided by consummate knowledge. Tweed will endeavor to euchre the devil out of his ready money; Tilden will try and despoil him of his sulphurous empire."

The Chicago Journal says: Secretary Sherman was yesterday asked: 'What proportion of gold and silver will be paid by the Government, after January 1, on current obligations?' The Secretary declined to answer, saying that it is a mere matter of detail, which would be attended to at the proper time. He added that the Government would be fully prepared to resume specie payment in January in a manner entirely satisfactory to the public.

The Revised Statutes of Wisconsin are nearly ready for the market. The printing is finished, and the work is in the hands of the binder. On Wednesday afternoon, ninety volumes were taken to the capitol bound in handsome shape. The books were printed at the State Journal office which is a sufficient guarantee that the work is well done. We presume after this week there will be a sufficient number of the Revised Statutes bound to supply the present demand.

Private dispatches from Wisconsin and Minnesota, to the Chicago Journal during the past week, as regards the progress of the political campaign in those States, are exceedingly encouraging. The Republicans, who are fighting a determined battle for honest money as against the proposed irredeemable "fiat" trash of the "Nationals" and Democrats, feel sure of making a clean sweep. They are gaining ground every day.

The "great Democratic victory" in Ohio, the result of the gerrymandering, is reduced to this: Nine Republican Congressmen received 30,791 majority; and eleven Democratic Congressmen received 19,780 majority. So the story proves that the Republicans gained 11,011 by Democratic rascality.

Judge Doolittle seems to be more concerned in Parker's election than he does in his son Jim's. If the father has confidence in his son's ability to make his own election sure, events will soon prove that his confidence has been misplaced.

It cost Mr. Tilden between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 to run the campaign in 1876, and Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, says we can prove it. Of course Tilden spent this handsome fortune because "reform was necessary."

In the Paris Exposition there were 64 grand prizes, 883 gold medals, 3,653 silver medals, 6,565 bronze medals, and 5,081 honorable mentions—in all 16,966 prizes. America came in for a share of the prizes.

MORE EVIDENCE.

What Judge Shellabarger Says of the Democratic Plot to Capture the Vote of South Carolina for Tilden—An Elector Who Could Not be Bought.

A Washington telegram to the Chicago Tribune contains the following:

Judge Samuel Shellabarger, who was present at the canvas of the electoral vote in South Carolina, in commenting upon the cipher disclosures, made the following statement: "I went to South Carolina at the request of the Secretary of War and Attorney-General to act as counsel in the mandamus case brought before the vote was cast. Wade Hampton's militia, to the number of 6,000, were there to inaugurate him. I soon found out their plan, which was subsequently made public, and is confirmed by the cipher dispatches. It was to arrest the Republican electors for contempt of the Supreme Court in not obeying its order in the mandamus suit, and to imprison them in different jails, so that it would be impossible for them to meet at ten or half-past ten o'clock. Believing that this was their plan, we arranged to have a preliminary meeting of electors very early that morning, and to have them vote before the Supreme Court could touch them, as that court could not meet before ten. We found in the morning that the Democrats had one of the electors, a colored man. The electors met. I was present, from the fact that I was connected with the defense in the mandamus suit. The electors were waiting for their absent member. The report was brought that he was in a bank with the Democrats, and there was great alarm among the Republicans. They felt confident that there was a corrupt sale being attempted. They did not get their meeting before the court met, as was arranged. Such arrangement seems to have been made that, if these had been a plan to arrest them that morning before they voted, it must have been abandoned, because the Supreme Court took no such action. While I was sitting there waiting, the absent elector came bounding in and the first thing he said was "Hurrah for Hayes!" and then sat down and told the story that the Democrats had been after him. The substance of his story, which I heard him tell in the presence of the other electors, before the vote was cast, was that they had offered him so much cash and another large sum after the vote was cast, but, as represented, he had declined all such corrupt proposals. What the sum was I do not remember. I then left the room, and the vote was afterwards cast.

The Female Hermit of Nevada.

Old Mother Dildine, the female hermit who lives in the mountains about fifteen miles northwest of town, says the Sutro Independent, made her semi-annual visit to Sutro on last Wednesday to sell a few eggs and lay in a scanty supply of groceries and other provisions. In conversation she seemed quite self-possessed and intelligent. She says she will be Sixty years old next October; that she has lived alone in the mountains now for twelve years, and that she is perfectly happy in living secluded from the outside world. Her only support is that which she derives from 260 Angora goats and about eight hens. She says she is seldom visited by the whites, and prefers never to see one about the premises, for, in nearly every instance, they tease her about her mode of living, and after their departure she worries over their conduct toward her. She likes the Plutes and even seeks their companionship. They have never yet seen her in need but what they would shoot some rabbits, or kill a few birds for her relief, and in cold weather have shared the warmth of their blankets with her. In height, this singular woman is about five feet six inches, and in actions sprightly. Her dark auburn hair lies in wavelets about her forehead, and hangs about her head in long curls. Her dress is neat and in no way conforms with that she is reported to wear in the mountains. She is a native of Massachusetts, has two brothers living in Westport, in that State, and a sister living in Lowell. Her living a recluse was brought about by troubles in her married life years ago.

Josh Billings on the Peach.

Peaches and kream will convert enny man who is worth saying. The peach has a doun like that on a maiden's cheek, but it ain't half so pleasant to get into the lips. Peach brandy is made out of the peach; this licker has been called mello, but like all other licker that I have tried, it will lay out a saint just as flat as it will a sinner. The fakt of it is, there ain't no kind of ardent rum, I don't care how artless and gentle the name of it is, or how rich and mello you may call it, but what will throw him who wrassels with it, be he fool or be he philosopher. There iz only one piece ov humanity that kan stand ardent spirits, and he is an Injun and kant stand it only long enuff to get civilized. When peach brandy iz fust made it iz az hot az a streak ov lightning, and just about az sudden. I once drank a teaspoonful ov it warm from the still, and it was twenty minutes before I could draw a long breath. I waz az hot inside az a chimney on fire. I thought it would break out and blaze sumwhere, but it didn't happen to. I went at once and joined the Murphys.

HURRICANE.

Tremendous Storm of Wind and Rain in the East—Great Destruction of Property in Philadelphia.

Special to the Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, October 24.—Over forty churches and a hundred dwellings were unroofed, and eight persons killed and eighty wounded in the great storm. The damage will amount to several million dollars.

In Eastern Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey and Long Island several lives were lost. The telegraph wires are in a bad fix.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 23.—A tempestuous gale, unprecedented in severity swept over this city early this morning commencing about 2:30, reaching its height between 6 and 7:30 a. m., and subsiding with a heavy rainfall towards 9 o'clock. During these brief morning hours incalculable damage was done by the wind which raged with the fury of a hurricane. Not in many years, if ever before, has there been so much damage done in the streets, public squares, and along the river fronts. Many public school buildings are damaged, and the public squares devastated.

Over forty churches, of all denominations, are more or less damaged by the demolition of steeples, etc., several of which are expected to fall in at any moment. The Walnut Street Presbyterian church, on Walnut street, between Thirty-ninth and Fortieth, was badly damaged. The spire, which was 180 feet high, was blown down, and in its fall struck the roof of a dwelling, and very badly damaged it. In its fall a portion of the church roof was carried with it, and the vestibule of the church and the organ loft filled with debris. The organ was completely demolished. The damage to this church will amount to $35,000.

The steeple of the First Baptist church, on Thirty-sixth and Chestnut streets, 170 feet high, was blown down. In its fall the spire doubled up, the base falling into the church yard, and the top, with the bell, fell into the street. Damage, $23,000. In its fall the top of the spire struck the houses opposite, damaging them considerably.

The spire of the Emanuel German Lutheran church, on Fourth and Carpenter streets, 222 feet high was also among the many church steeples blown down to-day. A great many market houses and passenger railway depots were badly damaged, and hundreds of dwellings, chiefly in the northwestern part of the city, unroofed, some of them being entirely demolished.

The shed for departing trains at the Pennsylvania Railroad depot, West Philadelphia, was demolished, involving a loss of between $40,000 and $50,000.

The whole eastern end of the Twelfth and Sixteenth street Passenger Railway depot was leveled to the ground, stopping the running of cars for a long time, as it was impossible to get them out of the building.

The large depot of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, on Washington Avenue Wharf, was reduced to ruins, and the south side of the Pennsylvania grain elevator, in the immediate vicinity, was blown in.

The two western spans of the Schuykill bridge on the Reading Railroad fell into the river, and stopped all travel in that direction. Along the Delaware River front no less than twenty warehouses are without roofs, and water is running into stores on the east side, doing great damage to private stock, and to goods stored on wharves. It is estimated that at least fifty storehouses along the wharves were blown from their fastenings, and great quantities of goods floated off with the tide.

CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 23—To-day's storm was probably the severest that ever visited this section. The destruction is greater than ever before known. Seventy stores and dwellings were unroofed, nineteen being blown down altogether. Three churches were partially destroyed and eleven manufacturing places so much damaged that work will have to be suspended for a while, and a number of people thus thrown out of employment. The damage to shipping is very considerable. Several schooners and sloops were washed ashore, and five canal-boats, loaded with coal, sunk in the river.

HARRIRBURG, Pa., Oct. 23—The heaviest storm of wind and rain experienced in this vicinity for years set in last night. Buildings were unroofed, sewers choked up, cellars flooded, trees and shrubbery blown down. The trains on all railroads were delayed for several hours by washouts. A bridge on the Northern Central Railroad at Goldsboro was washed away. Reports from the surrounding country show that great damage has been done.

POTTSNOWN, Pa., Oct. 23—The loss by the storm in this city and vicinity is $150,000.

POLITICAL.

BOSTON, Oct. 24—The Greenback State ticket was completed to-day, with Butler for Governor, and Arnold, Howland, Northend, Binney and King for the other places.

MILWAUKEE, Wis, October 22.—Edwin Hyde was nominated for the Legislature to-day by the Republicans of the Fourth Assembly District. Albert Conro will be nominated by the Republicans of the Seventh District.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Oct. 23—The Democrats of the Fourth Assembly District have indorsed Milan Ford, Greenback candidate. In the First District R. D. Torrey, Greenback nominee, has not yet accepted. The Republican Convention will be held Saturday. The prospect is good in this county for three out of four Assemblymen.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23—A Democratic victory on November 5, is regarded as a foregone conclusion. Only Democratic and Republican Commissioners, who by law count and declare the vote, will be appointed, and, the Republicans have no local candidates in the field, the result is obvious.

DENIAL.

Special to the Gazette.

SIMLA, Oct. 24—A New York member of the Tilden family says there is no truth in the report that S. J. Tilden is to marry a belle of St. Louis.

The General Land Office.

WASHINGTON, October 22—The Commissioner of the General Land Office has transmitted to the Secretary of the Interior reduced estimates of the amounts needed by him during the next fiscal year. They aggregate about $1,335,000, including $75,000 to prevent depredations on timber lands, $200,000 for surveying public lands, etc., and for salaries and expenses of Surveyor General's offices, and $470,000 for salaries of Registers and Receivers and other expenses of local land offices throughout the country. The estimate for salaries salaries of employes of the General Land Office is $393,140, an excess of $86,780 over the amount appropriated for the current year. In explanation of this increase, Commissioner Williamson states that the present clerical force is not half large enough, nor is there half the necessary room in which to transact the business of the bureau in a satisfactory manner.

A Humiliating Error.

When I last visited the opera I was much surprised and annoyed by the conduct of a little gentleman, who from the moment the curtains went up did not cease to start up in his seat, and strike his brow, all the while uttering exclamations of surprise and delight.

"What ails you?" said I, at last.

"Wonderful! Surprising! Do you know, sir," he added, turning to me, "that I never studied Italian in my life, and yet I understand every word the singers are saying?"

"Why," said I, "that is easily accounted for—they're singing in French."

"Are they?" he said, with an air of disappointment; "I'm so sorry, because if it had been Italian, I'd have known another language. It's too bad."

Anything for Escape.

From the Philadelphia Sunday-School Times.

The lessons just now taught in our Sunday-schools "cut to the quick" wherever there is in the pupil a tender conscience and a sense of sin. A bright little fellow in a New York school, who felt the application of their truths to be too close for his personal comfort, burst out with the exclamation, "I wish I had died when I was a baby and got rid of all this." After his teacher had kindly shown him how much he would have missed by passing out of life as soon as it begun, and had pointed out the folly of his wish, the boy, in no measure relieved from the uncomfortable sense of responsibility resting upon him, tried to wriggle out of it in this fashion: "Well, I wish I was an indian, anyway, for they don't have to know about these things."

TRIALS OF RICH LADIES.

With Conceited Dressmakers and Custom-House Inspectors.

"Miss Grundy's" Washington Letter to Boston Herald.

If it were not that women are more patient than men, we would certainly hear of strikes among those who are looked upon as wealthy idlers. The train of woes they depict would be amusing if it were no: that their pleasure and comfort are entirely destroyed by the trials they are subjected to by dressmakers and custom-house officers. During a recent visit to New York, I heard two ladies discussing their vexations. Of course the conversation turned on dress, and I learned that there was little choice between being rich enough to replenish your wardrobe, or too poor to enjoy the privilege. Said one lady to another: "I was recommended to try—'the famous modiste. I went to her residence. I was shown into a parlor and asked to send up my card. The high and mighty creature sent and asked me if I had references; she never worked for any one who did not bring well known references." The lady meekly submitted and sent up a well known name. The presiding genius then condescended to appear. She used an imperious and commanding tone when she demanded: "How many dresses are to be made?" The lady said: "Only one at present." The haughty workwoman said: "I never trouble myself to work for any lady who only brings one dress. It is not worth my while." Then the abject supplicant promised there should be two, for, as she said, while telling the story: "You know —— has such a famous cut, and I felt that she must make my dress, no matter what it cost." Well, she had her desire gratified. The dresses were made and had the celebrated fit and cut, but the bill for extras on each dress ran up to $100.

In reply to this story the listener said: "I won't stand such impudence, so I send to Paris for my dresses. I delight in cheating the government. My husband scolds but I tell him the New York custom house is nothing but a big swindle, and I try to get even on that score. They caught me once, and I had to pay $600 for what cost in Paris only $300." Then the other lady said: "While Mr. Bristow was secretary of the treasury I received my bills for a box sent from Paris—two hats and a dress. The bills amounted to $250. I made no attempt to evade the payment of duty until they assessed me $450 on my $250. Then I went to an official in Washington and said to him: 'Here are my bills; I will pay duty according to valuation, but no such extortion. You can take the box, if it will do the government more good than the customs which are fair and just.' Well, he promised, but he probably feared to interfere with the custom-house knaves in New York. They kept my box one year, and released it with the hats and dress so damaged that they were of no use to me, but there was no redress."

Great American Pie Eaters.

A special from Wilmington, O., to the Cincinnati Commercial says: "Last year a family of seven persons, living near here, by actual count consumed 1,165 pies. This is a fact, and can be substantiated. What a pie-ous family they must be. As it wasn't a good fruit year, they didn't put in their "best licks," and think if they had kept their tally during this year of abundance they would have been able to have shown a better record. Just clear the decks, and give a Clinton county family one-half a chance, and there's no telling what they can't do. One of the boys undertook to keep an account of the number of pies disposed of this year. He got along this year very well while the rhubarb season lasted, the currant and gooseberry crop rushed him, blackberry time was a stunner, by working at nights he managed to keep up the tally while peaches were in circulation; but when plums and fall apples appeared upon the scene he was forced to succumb. They found him in the cellar one day, lying upon a pile of manuscript more than a foot in depth, fainted dead away from exhaustion, and as limp as a rag baby, yet still clinging to a well-worn lead pencil, which pointed to the figures 8,343,213, which was supposed to be the score of the home run made by the last pie to date."

A Jerseyman and a Kitten.

New York Times: A man, who gave his name as David Strothern, was arrested on an Erie ferry boat yesterday, at Jersey City, on a charge of ill-treating a kitten. The man was intoxicated, and had a young kitten, which he strangled until its tongue protruded from its mouth. A little girl picked it up and tried to hide it under her cloak. The man saw her, and excitedly demanded that it be given up. The girl refused, and he took it from her and twisted its neck until it was almost dead, and threw it under the seats. The ladies notified the policeman on duty at the foot of Pavonia avenue, and he arrested the man and took him before Judge Davis. The ladies testified to his cruelty, and Judge Davis fined him $5 for drunkenness and $5 for cruelty to an animal. He refused to pay, although he had nearly $100 in his possession, and he was locked up. The kitten was given to the little girl.

Lovely Woman.

Women are still advancing. A girl of nineteen, belonging to "one of the best known society families" in San Francisco, caught the prevailing mania for stock speculation. She had no money of her own to gamble in stock with, so she invented a charitable organization, of which she was treasurer, under an assumed name. The money thus collected she used to speculate with, and all went on swimmingly until a police officer was put upon her track, and she found herself suddenly arrested for obtaining money on false pretenses.

Seventy prisoners escaped from the jail at Rochester, New York, two men were killed by the falling of a bridge, fires in Philadelphia, Dubuque and Leavenworth destroyed $200,000 worth of property, an old man was murdered in New York, three children drowned at New Orleans, four negroes hanged at North Vernon, Indiana, and a ship wrecked off Cape Hatteras, all on Saturday last, only five days after two districts in Iowa elected Greenback Congressmen. We knew, and we said so at the time, that the people would very soon begin to see the evil results of the greenback success in those districts.—Hawkeye.

SELECT LIST OF LOCAL NEWSPAPERS!

Many persons suppose this list to be composed of CHEAP, low-priced newspapers. The fact is quite otherwise. The Catalogue states exactly what the papers are. When the name of a paper is printed in FULL FACE TYPE it is in every instance the BEST paper in the place. When printed in CAPITALS it is the ONLY paper in the place. When printed in roman letters it is neither the best nor the only paper, but is usually a very good one, notwithstanding. The list gives the population of every town and the circulation of every paper. IT IS NOT A CO-OPERATIVE LIST. IT IS NOT A CHEAP LIST. At the foot of the Catalogue for each State the important towns which are not covered by the list are enumerated. IT IS AN HONEST LIST. The rates charged for advertising are barely one-fifth the publishers' schedule. The price for one inch four weeks in the entire list is $625. The regular rates of the papers for the same space and time are $3,136 35. The list includes 970 newspapers, of which 163 are issued DAILY and 807 WEEKLY. They are located in 825 different cities and towns, of which 22 are State Capitals, 328 places of over 5,000 population, and 444 County Seats. LISTS SENT ON APPLICATION. Address GEO. P. CATARRH

Catarrh of the Nasal Cavities, Acute, Chronic, and Ulcerative, Hay Fever, or Rose Catarrh, Catarrh of the Eye and Ear, and Catarrh of the Throat.

SUCCESSFULLY TREATED WITH

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

CATARRH is a disease of the mucous membrane. Temperaments and constitutions vary its severity in individual cases. Catarrh may arise from a cold or a succession of colds, from sudden change of atmosphere, wearing wet clothing, or exposure to inclement weather, and becoming thoroughly chilled when the digestive organs are in a morbid or inactive condition, and the strength and vital forces exhausted. The disease may arise from a scrofulous condition of the blood, from Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Diphtheria, in which cases the eye and ear are generally involved and discharge quantities of matter. The discharges from the nose, the distinctive feature in all catarrhal cases from whatever cause they arise, may be thin and watery, and so acid as to cause redness and excoriation of the skin with which they come in contact, or thick and yellowish, emitting a foul odor, or clear and white like the white of an egg. There may be an entire lack of secretion, the surfaces being dry and feverish, the face, front and upper part of the head feeling uncomfortable, and as if it was encircled by a tight, unyielding band. This latter phase is called Dry Catarrh. The free mattery discharges cause the passages to swell and become thickened, rendering breathing through the nose difficult or impossible, and the sufferer finds it necessary to breathe through the mouth, thereby permitting cold air to pass directly to the bronchial tubes and lungs. The matter passing down the throat creates a constant desire to hawk and expectorate to throw it off; but when the membrane is dry and feverish, instead of passing freely down from the nose and throat, the mucus becomes hard and forms into scabs, incrustations, and hard lumps, which adhere so firmly to the nasal passages and throat as to require very persistent efforts to dislodge them. The eye in sympathy becomes inflamed, red, weak, and watery, or in the morning the lids may be found glued together, and matter is secreted in more or less quantity. The ear also becomes seriously affected, discharging quantities of matter, besides being visited by the most violent neuralgic pains, ending frequently in inflammation, ulceration, and finally deafness. The throat, bronchial tubes, and lungs are in many cases affected by catarrh, and when prostration of the nervous system is superadded, such affections become alarming.

A brief survey of this most serious disease warns all who are afflicted with it to make speedy preparation for its treatment before it becomes chronic. The advantages offered by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE we confidently believe are to be found in no other remedy. Every step in its preparation, every line in the directions, mark it as a scientific remedy, calculated to meet every phase of the disease. The numerous testimonials from the best people in the United States attest the esteem in which it is held by those who have been freed from the most destructive and dangerous disease with which mankind is to-day afflicted

HIGH LIFE CORRUPTIONS.

Brooklyn's Sensational Preacher on the Haunts of Sin—He Undertakes to Show Up Some of the Rottenness of the Upper Classes—And May Call Names Before He Gets Through—A Sermon Received Chiefly With Laughter.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The smut-hunters evidently made up their minds, from their experience of last Sunday, that it was a case of false pretenses, and there was not near so great a rush this morning to hear Mr. Talmage's discourse on his travels by night through the evil places of New York. By the time Arbuckle was ready to begin his performance on the cornet, however, every inch of the Tabernacle was packed, the women being numerically as well represented as the men. Mr. Talmage took as his text Isaiah xxi., 11—"Policeman, what of the night?" the rendering from the original being his own. He said there were roughs, thieves and desperadoes in Jerusalem just as in New York to-day, and a force of police had to be maintained to keep them in order. A few weeks ago the speaker determined to ask "Policeman what of the night?" In addition to his powerful escortage, he took two of his elders, not because better than the others, but because muscular. [Laughter.] He had resolved where anything more than spiritual defense might be necessary to refer the whole matter to their hands. [Great laughter.] He had been preceded by Thomas Chalmers, Thomas Guthrie, and every other man who had ever done anything to balk crime, but above all by Him who though derided by the hypocrites of His day, persisted in dipping into the moral slush of His time, and herding with adulteresses and lepers. Those who had decried the step were lepers who did not have their scars touched, and who know the speaker would show up some of the weakness and

ROTTENNESS OF THE UPPER CLASSES.

The devil howled because he knew he was to be hit hard. The speaker noticed that the haunts of sin are chiefly supported by men of wealth who go to them from the fashionable avenues of New York and Brooklyn, or from the prominent business centres of Boston, Chicago and Cincinnati. "I would call names," shouted Mr. Talmage, "and I may before I get through, though it wreck the fabric of society." [Great applause.] Judges of courts, officers of churches, political orators, stock-brokers, large importers, wholesale grocers, and merchants of every character were among them. The speaker preferred that heathenism that wallows in filth and disgusts the beholder to that which covers its putridity under a camel's hair shawl and point lace. What was needed was about fifty Anthony Comstocks to explore and expose the corruption of high life. For eight or ten years there stood in sight of the most fashionable New York drive a brown-stone hell on earth which neither judges nor police dared to touch. Comstock worked himself into that palace of damnation, and, in the name of an Eternal God, put an end to it. The priestess who presided over its orgies retreated through

SUICIDE INTO PERDITION.

It takes but from three to five years for a woman to make the whole pilgrimage from a marble palace to a Water street cellar. One officer said to the speaker, "Look at them now. In three years they will be heaps of rags in the station-house." Another said: "She is the daughter of one of the wealthiest families on Madison square." Another fact the speaker noticed was that the haunts of sin are chiefly supported by heads of families—husbands and fathers. Such men should be hurried out of society equally with the women they herd with. In the speaker's opinion, the eternal perdition of all other sinners will be heaven compared with the punishment of him who turns his back on her he swore to defend, and goes forth to seek affectionate alliances elsewhere! There has got to be reform in this matter, or American society will go to pieces. Nine-tenths of the iniquity is perpetrated under the head of "incompatibility of temper." That is no excuse. "I wish," shrieked Talmage, "that there might be a police raid lasting some time, and that all prominent citizens found in haunts of vice might be gathered in and marched through the streets, followed by about twenty reporters, who would take their names and put them in next day's papers in capital letters [Great laughter.] I'd like to go along. [Renewed laughter.] In six months there would be a decrease of 80 per cent in public crime. It is not so much our boys that need to be looked after as their fathers and mothers." The speaker went on to lavish extravagant praise upon the Brooklyn officials. He asserted that, owing to their firmness and incorruptibility, there is not a gambling hell, a policy shop, or in the city limits. Noticing the general smile of incredulity with which this was received, he shouted: "If you know a single exception report it to me, and I'll warrant that, within two hours, the police will come down upon it like an Alpine avalanche. [Uproarious applause.] If you don't it is because you are a coward, or are in the sin yourself. You shall bear the responsibility, and not throw it upon our hard-working police. Where, then," he asked, "do the people of Brooklyn go? To New York. [Laughter.] I am told some places there are almost entirely supported by Brooklyn men and women."

THE BLAME

for not extirpating the evil rested on three parties,—first on the police of New York. They have great discouragements to contend with. When they make arrests witnesses fail to appear for fear of criminating themselves, and many suits have been brought against them for defamation of character, but, after long research, the speaker had come to a conclusion that the New York Captains of Police are guilty of complicity with the criminals. There were men getting $10,000 a year for winking at the existence of vile resorts. Some Captains receive a percentage on every bottle of wine sold, and are given a regular share of the other profits of these shambles. In the Twenty-ninth Precinct there are 121 dens of death untouched. In West Twenty-sixth and Thirty-sixth streets there are whole blocks that are

PERFECT PANDEMONIUMS.

In the whole of New York city where there are 2,500 police, there are between 500 and 600 dens of darkness. Not long ago a masquerade ball was gotten up by the denizens of these places, and the police danced at it, and distributed the prizes. The grandest opportunity ever offered to any American lady within the grasp of that high official who would break the evil up at the risk of his private property, political ambition, his life. That man would be mayor of New York, and fit to be President of the United States.

THE SECOND PART OF THE BLAME

rested on the New York District Attorney. He was an honorable man, but had not time to follow the cases of this character brought to his notice. He should be given all the assistance needed. The third and heaviest share fell upon the moral and christian people of the two cities, who are guilty of a most culpable indifference. Indignation meetings were wanted to compel public authorities to send out police with clubs, and lanterns, and revolvers to clean out these places, and arrest their inmates, and march them to the Tombs, with fife and drum in advance, playing the "Rogue's March." [Laughter.] With such men on the bench as Hacket, Kilbreth, Duffy and Wandell, the evil should be stopped.

IN CONCLUSION,

Mr. Talmage delivered himself of a grotesque appeal to divorced couples to reunite, and announced that, on next Sunday, he would discourse on the specific sins he saw. In giving out the concluding hymn he shouted to the audience "to sing like H—eaven." Everybody thought for an instant something else was coming, and an audible titter ran through the assemblage.

THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1878.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—New moon to-morrow.

—Prayers at the churches to-night.

—The Hon. Charles H. Parker, of Beloit, was in the city to-day looking after his Congressional chances.

—Rev. T. C. Wilson, the newly appointed pastor of the Methodist churches at Footville and Magnolia, was in the city to-day.

—"Urlina" is the title of the new opera bouffe extravaganza, which is to be presented here by the Hyers Sisters, Wednesday evening, October 30.

—Miss Jennie Stevens has been engaged as organist for Christ Episcopal church. The choice is a good one, as Miss Stevens is in every way capable of filling the position to the satisfaction of all.

—Mr. S. Holdredge was able to walk to his store to-day, but is far from having recovered from his injuries, and it will be some time before he will do business. His many friends will be glad to learn that he is doing as well as he is.

—Ed Welch, son of Tom Welch of this city, is in trouble. He was arrested at Clinton for entering the dwelling house of Ole Natasty, and stealing a silver watch. On being arraigned he pleaded guilty, and has been bound over to the Circuit Court.

—Rev. A. L. Royce, rector of Christ Episcopal church, has arranged a series of twenty-four lectures on church history, to be delivered Friday afternoons at the church. The first of these will be delivered to-morrow afternoon, the subject being, "The Study of Church History," the lecture to commence at 4:15 o'clock.

—Foote, the clothier, has received a large lot of good overalls, which he is selling at twenty-five cents a pair. No one can afford to go ragged when goods get down to this figure. He has also received a large lot of scarlet underwear, and another shipment of those Plymouth buck gloves for which he has had such a speedy sale. He has overcoats from $3 upwards. Look at them.

—There is a growing tendency among the boys of tender years to arm themselves with pistols for purposes of sport and frolic, and of late there have been several narrow escapes from accidents. Parents, teachers, and others who have any influence or control in learning the young ideas how to shoot, should take extra precaution to see to it that they don's shoot pistols. Put up the pops.

—The new chapel of Trinity Episcopal church has been completed and is ready for occupancy. It is a fine room, forty by sixty feet, and is to be used for Sunday school purposes. The building will prove a great convenience in many respects. It has cost the society about $500. The good folk of Trinity church seem determined to spare no means to make their place of worship commodious and attractive. Besides wholly refitting the church, and building the chapel, they are now putting some repairs on the outside, and making a firmer foundation for the tower.

—Rev. Mr. Maclean, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, has been planning for some special services for children, in which the little ones shall do the singing, and take the chief part in the responsive service, though the children of a larger growth are expected to be present also. These services will prove very interesting. The first one will be held the second Sunday in November, at which time Mr. Maclean will preach also, the sermon to be short and clad in simple language, that all the children may understand and profit thereby.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 39 degrees above and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 45 degrees above. Cloudy. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 60 and 66 degrees above.

THE OHMS MURDER.

Fred Ohms, found guilty of the murder of his father, has not yet been sentenced, and his attorneys are preparing the necessary papers to sustain a motion for a new trial. If a new trial is granted a change of venue will be taken to some other county.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

There was one of the most enthusiastic and successful Republican rallies of the campaign at the church in Stebbensville last night. Mr. Soden presided and Hon. Pliny Norcross and E. M. Hyzer gave addresses. The gathering was a large one, and from the beginning to the close the most encouraging cheers were given to the points made by the speakers. All who were present pronounce the meeting one of the best yet held.

THE FUNERAL OF JULIUS A. SHERER.

The funeral of Julius A. Sherer took place this afternoon, and was very largely attended by the many friends upon whose hearts has rolled this burden of sorrow, as though he were of there own kin and blood. The circumstances of his sudden death, and the virtues which graced his character, combined to call forth the most heartfelt sympathy of the entire community, and many availed themselves of this opportunity to express their respect for him, and sorrow for his death, by attending the last sad rites, which church and friends could tender him. The friends gathered at the residence on Bluff street, and from there proceeded to St. Patrick's church where the services were held. Mr. F. Quinn had charge of the arrangements and Will Watson, John Harlow, Fred McLean, George Scarcliff, Jr., George Thomas, and Linn Knox served as pall-bearers. A large number followed the remains to the cemetery. The funeral was indeed one of the saddest which has yet occurred, and it will yet be long before it is fully realized that Jules Sherer, who but a few days ago was with us in life and joy, is now no more.

HOME, SWEET HOME.

Burr Robbins in Janesville Again—Facts and Figures of the Season's Work.

Burr Robbins is at home again. Everybody gladly welcomes him and his back to Janesville again. The season has been a very successful one, and all will rejoice to learn that his enterprise has met with the reward which it merits.

The show started out from Janesville the last day of April, and first appeared in Elkhorn May 1. They returned yesterday, so that the season was twenty-five weeks and three days in length, a few days shorter than last season. There was not a miss or a skip, and every stand fixed upon was made, and every advertised promise was fulfilled. The show travelled over 3,000 miles and appeared in 148 cities and towns scattered through seven different States as follows:

Wisconsin	49
Iowa	43
Nebraska	29
Kansas	18
Missouri	6
Illinois	2
Minnesota	1
	148

As the show gave two performances in each place there were in all 296 performances. Few people have any idea of what it costs to run a circus, and a few facts taken from this season's expenses may enlighten such. In the matter of advertisement alone an immense sum of money is necessarily expended. The matter of bill-posting alone aggregates much larger than the unitiated would suppose. The posters pasted up this season measure in all 118,400 feet, and twelve feet in height, sufficient to make a six-foot fence about twenty-three miles long. The cost of the boards on which to paste this amount of advertising matter reached the snug little sum of $4,500, and even in the matter of paste alone the dollars roll up into hundreds with remarkable rapidity. During this season 7,500 pounds of starch were thus used up in pasting the bills. Added to this is the cost of printing and distributing couriers, dodgers, programmes, &c. Of Burr Robbins' Couriers 175,000 were distributed this season, and a like number of dodgers and a like number of programmes. Of another kind of bill 150,000 were scattered over these seven States mentioned above, so that the total distribution of all the circulars, bills, dodgers, programmes, etc., reached easily 675,000, to say nothing of the posters on the bill boards. Besides this cost of advertising there has been $4,440 paid to the newspapers.

Another item which may cause some to open their eyes, is the amount of grain and hay necessary to keep the stock of a circus during the season. This season Robbins' stock has consumed 592 tons of hay, 148 tons of straw, 14,800 bushels of oats, and 2,960 bushels of corn.

These figures are only a tid-bit of the expenses attending the running of such a show as that of Mr. Robbins, and represent only a small part of the expenses for the year, but they are perhaps sufficient to give an idea of the magnitude of the enterprise of which Mr. Robbins is the head.

The facts as given above are not mere guesses, but have been kindly furnished us by Mr. George K. Steele, and hence may be relied upon as matters of fact and not of fancy. Mr. Steele has done good work as Mr. Robbins' advance agent, and is without doubt or flattery, one of the best and most popular advance agents in the country. He will remain here until some time next week when he will go to his home in Virginia. He has many friends here who will gladly have a hand-shake with him before he takes his leave again.

David Watt is also back home again, and is gladly greeted by his many friends in this city. This was his first season in the ticket office, but he quickly picked up the details of this busy position, and has become one of the most expert and popular men in his line. He has made a good strike this season, and all will rejoice to learn of his success, but then that is no more than his friends and admirers expected of him.

HYMENEAL HAPPINESS.

BUELL–JACOBS.

The marriage between Mr. Frederick Buell, of Buffalo, New York and Miss Carrie Jacobs, the beautiful niece of Hon Charles G. Williams, of this city, took place this afternoon at the residence of the bride's uncle.

The marriage ceremony was in accordance with the beautiful and solemn rite of the Protestant Episcopal church, and was pronounced by the Rev. Thomas W. Maclean, rector of Trinity church. The happy couple said the deeply solemn words which united them for life in clear and solemn tones of voice. No one looking at them and hearing them could fail to be impressed with the belief that a very happy future lay before them. Mr. Buell is highly connected in Buffalo, and bears the reputation of a fine business man. Janesville will lose in the departure of Mrs. Buell a most amiable and beautiful member of society, and Trinity church a faithful and zealous communicant.

Owing to the late bereavement of the family by the death of Mrs. Williams' father, Judge Noggle, the invitations were limited to a few intimate friends.

The gifts to the bride were very choice and beautiful; many of them were not on view, being still in Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Buell left on the 2:20 train for Chicago and the East, followed by the best wishes for their future happiness of a host of friends, and regrets that they were not to remain to grace the circles of Janesville.

WINGATE'S NEW STORE.

John H. Wingate has opened a new dry-goods store in Smith & Jackman's block on East Milwaukee street, one door from Main street. He has purchased an entirely new stock of staple and fancy dry-goods and notions, and having bought at close figures he proposes to sell at low prices, and rest content with cash in hand and small profits. Mr. Wingate is well known in this and adjacent counties as an enterprising, reliable merchant, and he will doubtless meet with that success which he so well merits. His old customers and many new ones will doubtless call upon him and improve this opportunity to get first-class goods at low prices.

FURTHER FACTS.

The Gun and Clothing of Young Sherer Recovered—No Trace of the Boat as Yet.

Every additional particular which can be gained concerning the sad fate of Charlie Colvin and Jules Sherer is eagerly grasped by the community whose sympathy and sorrow has been so aroused by the sad event. All day yesterday the search was kept up at the lake, to gain if possible some further clue by the recovery of the clothing and accoutrements. The search was in part successful. About half-way between the shore and the blind used by the young men, stands a post which had at one time formed a part of a blind which has since fallen into disuse. By grappling, young Sherer's clothing was all found lying at the bottom close to this post, and the gun, with one barrel emptied was found tied to the post by a string. The gun belonged to Horace McElroy, and was borrowed by young Sherer. Sherer's body was recovered, it will be remembered, near the blind, some distance from the stake, and Colvin's body was found near Sherer's. Sherer's pants were turned inside out, and it is surmised that he clung to this stake long enough to to tie the gun to it, and that he undressed while clinging there, and then struck out toward Colvin, who was probably near the blind, and perhaps clinging to it. When young Sherer's body was found it was in a cramped condition, and as he was more than an ordinarily good swimmer, it is judged by some that he was taken with cramps while struggling to reach his comrade. Like the many other theories advanced, this is but surmise; but every straw is readily caught at to relieve the anxiety which all feel to know more about the circumstances of that dread and fatal hour. The lake has been searched over for some trace of the boat, but it has not been found, neither has the gun been found which was used by Charlie Colvin.

Well-Toned Systems.

Systems toned and renovated with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are most effectually defended from disease. That supreme invigorant soon overcomes that distressing feebleness consequent upon ailments which impoverish the blood and relax the muscles. Vigor, appetite, sleep returns to the wasted frame, and every physical faculty gains greater activity through its benign influence. Nor is this all, for the Bitters have a most genial and cheering effect upon the mind of the despondent invalid, which is the natural effect of the increased bodily vitality which they produce. Nervous symptoms disappear in consequence of the use of this medicine, and the evil consequences sure to result from a premature decay of the physical energies are averted. Dyspepsia, liver complaints, rheumatic ailments, urinary and uterine irregularities, malarial diseases, and many other disordered conditions of the system, are remedied by the Bitters.

A Pardonable Pride

Prompts most people to delay, by any laudable means that science affords, the evidences of physical decay. Who that is in perfect health would not match the bright eye, the active mind, and other appearances of youthful vigor, with the luxuriance, the rich color, and beauty of youthful hair? Parker's Hair Balsam stands pre-eminent as an elegant hair dressing, and by its healthful action on the roots not only promotes a luxuriant growth of the young hair, but unfailingly restores gray or faded hair to the original youthful color, giving a soft, rich and lustrous appearance of great beauty. No other preparation so effectually removes Dandruff or stops falling of the hair; its cooling and healing action entirely curing itching and humors of the scalp, and keeping the skin clean, white and healthy. It is perfectly harmless, exquisitely perfumed, and contains nothing that will soil the skin or gum the hair. It is not a dye, and is unequaled for excellence and purity.
